MANAGER'S KORNER

October 2019

Tony Toscano

... Happy wife, Happy life...

Well, the kitchen tile is in and it looks great, as will the rest of the house when that tile is done. ~~She~~ We picked out the countertops that closely match the tile and they will look awesome as well. ~~She~~ We picked out everything together after ~~she told me~~ we discussed the choices.

A real rustic light stone style. Very warm and comfortable. So, I guess thru all my budget restrictions and ~~giving in~~ compromising with a ~~loud~~ wonderful Irish woman the saying holds true.

The're baaaaaaack !! Well, at least some are. Our northern residents are flying back to the home away from home or visa versa. With no major projects scheduled we should be in full swing for the Fall and Winter seasons here at Stonehedge. Filling up the bar at Cody's and enjoying the heated pool for the season. Swimming in November, December and thru till April sure beats temperatures like 3 or 4 degrees, they sound more like your great grandkids age. Looking forward to another fun filled season of retirement.

Palm Tree replacement - we have been in touch with a few nurseries and with some budget constraints it looks like we will purchase the trees and install with staff shortly. Shortly meaning when a few more resident arrive so we can keep them watered regularly.

Hurricanes Out of sight but not out of mind. Hurricanes. We dodged a bullet this year so far and hopefully our hurricane season is out of sight. But not out of mind are those who made sure the residents would have been taken care of if anything hit. Joyce Lester 192, Lynn Ridall 241, Augie Jesse 38, Randy Beasley 249 made sure that I knew they could be counted on in case it hit the fan. As was in 2017, I am sure that many more residents would have come forward and I thank you as well for those who I know would have given their time to make sure our residents and your neighbors were safe. Thank you all.

Reminder: a thank you for those who take care of their gardens and bushes. Please put your clippings in bags if you want the staff to pick them up. Its not the branches but the bundles of hand pulled weeds that can be put in small or large bags. It makes it much easier and efficient to get the entire park cleaned up.

Random thought. This has nothing to do with any story, but it amazes me that some people don't want to hear that they may be incorrect. When I find out something that proves me incorrect, I am satisfied that I have acquired additional knowledge that may help me or someone else in the future. People do not take the time to research, to inform themselves or acquire knowledge before they speak or for that matter even after they speak. Some refuse to listen to the other side, no matter what proof is put forth and believe there is only one side to the story, their side. If people chose to remain uninformed and speak loudly about an issue, then they and only they will always believe, and make sure you know, that they are a genius. Does that really make the world a better place or just your bathroom a better place?

Homes for Sale - just can't keep them around

Unit 90 - contract to remove damaged home

Unit 44 - listed by owner

Unit 108 - also listed by owner. Inquire directly with those listing the sale

Laugh when you can, Apologize when you should

Do not dwell on what you cannot change, Let go of what you cannot control

Take charge of what you can

Make forever moments whenever,

Safe travels, love life.

LAWN Fact Sheet

TRUGREEN

L-7

DROUGHT STRESSED LAWNS

Turfgrass plants are 70% to 75% water, which indicates the importance of moisture in maintaining a vigorous, healthy, growing plant. When grasses lose more water through the leaves than they absorb through the root system, the plants become stressed.

Drought Stress Symptoms

The early stages of drought stress are seen as turfgrass changing color from bright green to a dull gray or blue-green color. Footprints and lawn mower wheel tracks remain for a period of time and the grass does not spring back upright. As plants begin to wilt the grass blades roll or fold. With additional stress, the turf loses its green color and becomes yellow, then tan. A tan color indicates drought dormancy.

Drought Stress Damage

Grass plants that are in drought stress are often damaged by foot traffic and mowing. Do not mow lawns that are in drought stress. The grass is not growing, and the plants have less moisture content to protect the cellular structure from collapse and permanent damage.

Broadleaf weeds and weedy grasses in drought stressed lawns may outgrow the turf and create an uneven appearance. However, even mowing the lawn at a high cutting height to cut off tall weeds may still result in lawn damage. When a lawn is dry, mower wheels often leave stripes across the lawn when the grass blades are broken and damaged by the weight of the wheels.

Factors Affecting Drought Stress

Some turfgrasses such as bermudagrass and tall fescue have more tolerance of low moisture conditions than other grasses. Centipedegrass, bentgrass, and annual bluegrass are more prone to drought stress, and will lose green color quickly when soil moisture is low.

Heavy clay soils and sandy soils are not favorable for growing turf during periods of low moisture. The clay holds the moisture so tightly that grass roots cannot retrieve moisture, while sandy soils have a low moisture holding capacity.

Turf roots growing in thatch rather than in soil can result in a grass more prone to drought stress. Thatch is a layer of dead but undecomposed roots and stems above the soil. Thatch acts like a sponge. It quickly absorbs rainfall, but also dries out rapidly, leaving plant roots dry even after rainfall or watering.

Lawns mowed shorter than recommended for a grass type may have a shallow root system growing in the soil. A shallow root system dries quickly even when thatch is minimal.

Managing Turf During Drought

Water the lawn once grass begins to discolor and wilt. If it is not possible to water sufficiently to keep grass green, water the lawn with at least 1/2 inch of water every 7 to 14 days. This light watering will help keep the plants alive even if they are dormant. Do not mow the lawn during hot weather when signs of drought stress are present.

ACTIVITY COMMITTEE NEWS
Marlene Hall, Secretary

OCTOBER

October is here and soon you will be seeing the snowbirds coming back to Florida. The summer has been busy at Stonehedge, with swim parties, potlucks, the Fathers' Day breakfast, miscellaneous dinners, bands, and so much more. Special thanks to those who organized and put them all together.

The next party will be the October potluck on the 16th (more information to be found on the clubhouse bulletin board). This year's Halloween party will be on Wednesday the 30th (to avoid a conflict with Bingo on Thursday the 31st), with dancing and fun times. Watch the bulletin board for all the details.

Looking forward to seeing everyone! Safe travels.

BRING YOUR BLING

Many of us will soon be returning to Stonehedge to enjoy the winter months. Before you head south, please check your jewelry boxes and "bring your bling" to donate to the Spring Fair. Audrey and I appreciate your jewelry donations! I should be back by the end of October and you can start dropping them off to me then. Thank you!

Steph Welker, #85

 FALL DANCE

Please join us for on November 9, for the Fall Dance from 7:00 to 10:00. Music will be provided by "Jenna and Company." Tickets will be on sale October 30 and November 6 at Wednesday morning coffee. Hope to see you at the dance!

Bill and Steph Welker, #85

HALLOWEEN DANCE

The 2019 Halloween dance will be on October 30th from 6:00 pm to 9:30 pm! The dance will be the day before the actual Halloween date due to bingo being on Thursday! We will be having a 5 piece band: the Great band BIGFOOT! Wear a costume and have fun prizes given! Costumes are not necessary! BYOB! cost is $9.00 per person come and dance the night away!

GRIM FAIRY TALE

A married couple in their early 60s were out celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary in a quiet, romantic little restaurant.

Suddenly, a tiny yet beautiful fairy appeared on their table and said, "For being such an exemplary married couple and for being faithful to each other for all this time, I will grant you each a wish."

"Ooh, I want to travel around the world with my darling husband," said the wife. The fairy moved her magic wand and - abracadabra! - two tickets for the new QM2 luxury liner appeared in her hands.

Now it was the husband's turn. He thought for a moment and said: "Well, this is all very romantic, but an opportunity like this only occurs once in a lifetime, so, I'm sorry my love, but my wish is to have a wife 30 years younger than me".

The wife and the fairy were deeply disappointed, but a wish is a wish...

So the fairy made a circle with her magic wand and -abracadabra! the husband was 92 years old.

The moral of this story: Men are ungrateful idiots, Fairies are female!

THANK YOU ALL

Marion and I would like to thank everyone for the cards, rides, telephone calls and other forms of support given during my extended illness. I still have a long way to go and I am so glad to be here with you all in Stonehedge.

George & Marion Christman, # 202

WITH SINCERE THANKS

Dear Stonehedge residents,
 Thank you for your cards, prayers, and heartfelt condolences upon our mother, Joyce Chace's, passing. It is difficult to find the words to express our gratitude for all the kindness and support you have shown us. My mother lived a long full life. Although her sudden passing was very sad, my sister and I are grateful for having her with us for so many years and very glad that she chose to live her later years in Stonehedge with so many caring and supportive friends. Communities like this are "few and far between". She had a deep sense of community at Stonehedge and many good years of fun and laughter. A big thank you to all of you who participated! She would want you to know how much she appreciated all the beautiful get well cards and happy birthday wishes over the years. She would line them up on the window sill to view for weeks at a time. They were very meaningful to her and a reminder of how lucky and blessed she was. She will be missed, dearly.

 Sincerely,

Cheryl Heinbaugh & Gail LeClair
