MANAGER'S KORNER
SEPTEMBER 2019

Dare I say we had a quiet summer so far? As always, some minor unexpected items but none-the-less just part of the job, and again dare I say, nothing that costly (while I knock on wood). So now that I said that I will be looking up as I walk expecting something to fall from the sky (except money- we all know that grows on trees). Amazing how that works-- Murphy's Law. Last week I started putting in the kitchen cabinets that I purchased in January, but due to Murphy's Law it had been delayed 7 months (no need to discuss). We started the install and on the second cabinet a screw snapped which took nearly an hour to remove as to not damage the cabinet face. We budgeted to just make it to cover the kitchen install then my wife decided since the kitchen was being done, we might as well put in new kitchen tile. Needless to say, this turned into tile for the entire house. SERENITY NOW!!! Keep repeating Happy wife, Happy life, Happy wife, Happy life

Palm Tree replacement - we have been in touch with a few nurseries and will have one visit the week of 8/26 to price out the purchase and replacement of the 21 requests we received for replacement palms.

City Water Leaks Looks like the leak under the road at the garage was in the 100,000 gallons a month range and would have cost the association about $2,000 monthly. It seemed to rise up in time to allow us to repair for $1700.

Budget season: we are starting to work on the budget for 2020. As usual we will try out best to keep figures where they are but please keep in mind - our cable bill is near $90,000 and our water bill is near $140,000. With simple 5% common increases in these items it equates to ($11,500) $3.61 per unit per month on these 2 items alone. There are items that are out of our control that account for increases in our monthly fees. It's tough to try to cut $11,500 out of other items on the budget to make up that kind of increase. Now the numbers may seem high as a whole but at $90,000 it equates to only $28.30 per month for Expanded basic cable and at $140,000 it equates to $44.02 per month for water and sewer. If you add in trash and recycle collection $62,000 - $19.50 per unit per month -- it becomes a great deal since I pay $110 monthly for the same water, sewer, trash contract in Clearwater and $72 a month for basic cable. I'll take your deal any day.

CALL THE OFFICE FIRST: as a reminder, there is someone on call 24 hours a day for Stonehedge. If it's not management (727-639-1248) , or a board member (inquire who is on call) , then its Ameritech 24 hour line (727-726-8000) . Any issues that involve power to the home, Park-hired contractors (such as lawn service, tree trimming, road crews for seal coat etc.) the office is your first call. Do not discuss issues you are having directly with the contractor, but if by any chance you can't help yourself please notify the office that you did. We need to know contractor issues. We need to know power issues ASAP. The park's responsibility is the pedestal (breaker and wiring to the meter) Duke Energy only takes care of the meter, and I can say that 99% of the issues are either at the pedestal or in the home and not with the meter. We should be the first call to assess the next step you should take - it may save you money and time.

WORTH REPEATING: SCAMS, SCAMS and more SCAMS - AS LONG AS THEY KEEP WORKING - YOU WILL KEEP GETTING CALLED
If you are in the middle of the street with a car coming at you - I can dive to get you out of the way. If you are being robbed on the street someone can help you get out of that predicament. BUT if you allow people to talk you out of your money on the phone there is Nothing anyone can do to help you.

I CAN'T MAKE IT ANY CLEARER: IF YOU HAVE NOT REQUESTED INFORMATION DO NOT GIVE ANY OUT- JUST HANG UP !

Social Security does not call you for money, the IRS does not call you for money

If you won some Sweepstakes, why do you have to send them money to get what you won?

The police do not call you to say you are being arrested and ask for money

STOP TALKING TO THEM. PERIOD !!!

Homes for Sale - just can't keep them around

Unit 90 - contract to remove damaged home

Unit 44 - listed by owner

Unit 174 - listed by owner

I do not have anything else solid at this time, but there may be a few other homes coming on the market shortly

Laugh when you can, Apologize when you should Do not dwell on what you cannot change, Let go of what you cannot control

Take charge of what you can

Make forever moments whenever, Safe travels, love life.

THE URINE SAMPLE

I was in the hospital a while back, and there was this one nurse who just drove me crazy! Every time she came in she would treat me like a little child. In a patronizing voice she would say, "And how are we doing this morning?" or "Are we ready for our bath?" or "Are we hungry?" It wasn't long before I had had enough of this particular nurse, and one morning I took the apple juice off my breakfast tray and hid it in my bedside stand. A little later I was handed a urine sample bottle to fill for testing, so you can probably guess where the apple juice went. A little later my "favorite" nurse came back, looked at my "urine sample" and said, "My, my, we are a little cloudy today." At this, I snatched the bottle out of her hand, popped off the top and gulped it down, saying, "Well, I'll run it through again: maybe I can filter it better this time." The nurse fainted! I just smiled - don't mess with old people! JK

Landscape Article

-By the landscape guy

Every resident in Central Florida has been affected by the storm in a different way. Although I could never dismiss the real horror some of us have gone through this past week, for this article, I will only deal with the wind damage as it relates to our landscape plants and how I can help you mitigate the damages it has caused. All plants require wind and water to grow healthy stems and roots. Unfortunately, too much wind can cause our plants to bend or break, just as too much water can cut off oxygen to our plant's roots and cause them to decay. We have had both of these issues in the short span of one week. Now that the storm has passed our state, the recovery process can begin.

The first step in helping our landscape is to stop any further damage from occurring. Trees and shrubs that have broken, bent, or hanging limbs should be removed. The larger the limb or the branch is, the more care you will need to take in removing them. Shrubs and trees with a diameter of four inches or less that are leaning over can be straightened out and tied down to support stakes embedded into the ground. Trees over four inches in diameter and those which hold sentimental value can be saved through the efforts of a certified arborist. Unfortunately, most arborists are in the process of helping people remove large debris from their homes, so your efforts to hire one of these contractors may take a while.

Even though you may have luck in righting a tree, you will have to remember that the root structure of the tree or shrub has now been compromised. When the tree or shrub bent over, the roots on the far side of the tree were broken and stretched. Standing the plant back up will do the same to the roots on the other side of the tree. Plants that have been repositioned stand a fifty-fifty chance of surviving long-term. Even if the tree or shrub looks healthy, their root systems will take years to re-establish themselves. Even then, an afternoon storm could produce just enough wind to topple the plant again. This is the main reason I do not like to reposition any tree that has a trunk diameter over four inches. Shrubs are much more likely to recover quicker and more naturally.

Plants with large leaves may have been shredded during the high winds. These plants tend to break easily, and many shed their leaves during the storm. Do not worry. These plants will put on new growth and replenish their leaves in a short period of time.

Plumerias and Umbrella trees are an example of brittle plants with large leaves. Prior to a storm hitting, plants like these can be stripped of their sizeable leaves giving the tree extra wind resistance. This is also the technique used in trimming palms, which bears the name Hurricane pruning. If you can lessen the winds drag on your trees and plants, then you increase their survivability.

Some areas of Tampa Bay had several inches of leaf litter covering their lawns and bed areas after the storm. Much of this debris came from the oak trees we have in this area. Along with the debris came insects, which were dislodged from their homes during the storm. You will need to rake this debris from your lawns or risk losing large areas of turf due to fungal diseases and rot. Most of us have a mowing company that can do this for us, but some of us do not. Be careful when bagging this material as you could be stung by these insects. Spraying your lawn and bed areas with Bifenthrin should help you control some of these insects.

Florida is a wonderful place to live. We do however, have to put up with the occasional storm that passes our area. Preparing for the storm by removing leaves from plants susceptible to breakage and properly trimming your trees and landscape plants, can help save them from disaster. Cleaning up after the storm quickly can lessen the chances of losing your plants and be on the lookout for insects as you clean up your landscape and spray as needed. Good luck and remember, without plants, we would not be here!
